

Biographical Information – Alessandro Morandi, MD

Alessandro Morandi, MD is a Geriatrician and a Research Fellow in the Division of Allergy, Pulmonary, and Critical Care Medicine and the Center for Health Services Research at Vanderbilt University. He earned his medical degree from the University of Brescia, Italy. He then completed his Geriatric Fellowship at University Cattolica del Sacro Cuore in Rome, Italy. His research interest includes the aging brain, acquired cognitive dysfunction and functional outcomes of elderly patients admitted to ICU for critical illness and their subsequent clinical disposition and clinical course. His current research includes evaluation of delirium, long-term cognitive impairment in critically ill patients, MRI brain changes in delirious patients, and pathophysiology of delirium.